

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TCE TV
NEWS
EVERY ARTIST
SHOULD KNOW

Contact/Photo Inquires:

Veronica Redlitz, Publicist, TCE TV
vredlitz@transculturalexchange.org
508.505.6364 (cell)
transculturalexchange.org

Press kit and press photos available here.

SEASON 3 OF TCE TV PREMIERES
SEPTEMBER 3, 2025
WITH NEW EPISODES AVAILABLE EVERY MONTH.

Not all of us may be able to travel. We can, though, see a movie, go to an exhibit or read a book. Art can inspire and help us to understand the wonders of our planet and those who share it with us. To help make that possible, TransCultural Exchange exists. In the more than three decades of the non-profit's existence, TransCultural Exchange has produced hundreds of global art projects, artist exchanges, web resources and a biennial International Conference on Opportunities in the Arts. And, now...

A NEW SEASON OF TCE TV.

Starting this September, TCE TV's host Janelle Giuliani brings to the screen her enthusiasm for the arts, introducing audiences to an outstanding lineup of engaging guests. From local residencies to international hotspots, the show features programs that support artists' work and, in doing so, provides firsthand insights into how artists are addressing the pressing times in which we live. With each episode, the benefits of the arts in our communities are brought home to everyone, everywhere.

Season 3 of TCE TV premieres on Boston Neighborhood Network Media – TransCultural Exchange's home station – on September 3, 2025, at 7:00 pm. A complete list of the show's broadcasting stations is provided in the press kit, linked above. Also, on the second Thursday of each month, the latest episode of TCE TV will be freely available for streaming on TransCultural Exchange's website, along with an archive of all the show's episodes.

More photos and advance screening copies of the first episode of Season 3 are available upon request.